Find yourself in the Allegheny National Forest

Like winding roads and scenic byways?

Seeking an area where one car in front of you at a stop sign is considered “heavy” traffic? The seven driving trails in this brochure take you through the Pennsylvania Wilds, the forestlands of the Allegheny National Forest, the ridges of the Allegheny Mountains and the farmlands along scenic Route 6.

In the Allegheny National Forest region, everything is bigger. The sky is more vast, the mountains higher, the trees a bit taller. Travel into this area provides an opportunity to relax, slow down and unwind. You will discover “Authentic America” along the two-lane meandering roadway of Route 6, named by National Geographic Traveler as “One of America’s Most Scenic Drives.”

The fall foliage peeks early in the upper elevations of the Alleghenies; prime “leaf peeping” is late September and the first two weeks in October. Travel Savvy Magazine named the Longhouse National Scenic Drive in the Allegheny National Forest as one of the top six fall foliage drives in the United States. Fall really is bigger here!

McKean County, a central location for exploring the region, is conveniently accessed from points north from Canada via New York’s Interstate 86 and Pennsylvania’s Route 219. Traveling from the south? Travel Interstate 80 to Route 66 or Route 153 and head north!

Plan your visit during one of our 18 annual fairs and festivals. Play in the outdoors on more than 600 miles of trails or enjoy boating and fishing on the Allegheny Reservoir. Nine local museums bring history alive. Accommodations are available from the primitive to the plush. So leaf through our travel packages online at visitANF.com.
